MINOR MENTION.

The exact amount of the Easter offering at the Church of Our Saviour was $268.

Wm. Westlake, the piano tuner and regulator, of Denver, will be here in a few days. Orders may be left at U. P. Hotel.

J. C. Orr, who purchased the Minshall property in the west end of town some time ago, is now having the house remodeled preparatory to occupying it.

Messrs. Elliott, Edmonds and Ridgley go to Maxwell to-morrow evening to hit themselves against the crack debaters of that village on the silver coinage question.

After a somewhat vigorous fight in which he was opposed by some of his populist friends, T. Fulton Gantt has been appointed as attorney to the receiver of the North Platte National Bank.

Koppel the crippled Frontier county pauper who has been confined in the jail here for several weeks past, was examined the first of the week by the insanity commission, and will probably be sent to the asylum in a few days.

In a few days Dr. Butt will be fully settled in his office in McDonald's Block, where he will be pleased to see all who need dental work.

There is sufficient talent in town for the formation of a musical union, and with a little effort such an organization could be formed. The union could include both vocalists and instrumentalists. Prof. Garlich will probably locate here permanently and could be secured to instruct the members. Those interested in the matter should call a meeting and at least ascertain the feeling in regard to the matter. Such an organization would be of mutual benefit to the members and a good thing for the town.

Owing to lack of patronage the Nebraska house, which for the past four months has been conducted by Oberst & Breternitz, was closed to business Wednesday morning. The hotel has lost money ever since it has been under the management of the above firm, and rather than continue under such conditions until business improved, it was decided to close the house. It is a source of regret that such a step was necessary, but it must be apparent that there have been too many hotels in town for the amount of patronage.

The poverty bee given by the Ladies of the G. A. R. on Wednesday evening was well attended and proved highly amusing. A trial court was organized with Pat Sullivan as judge and Jake Miller as sheriff, and any one entering the room or found peering in the windows was promptly arrested and taken before the judge who imposed a fine on the prisoner for wearing good clothes and another fine for having a hungry look. By the payment of the fine the prisoner was entitled to a supper of army rations—corn bread, beans, coffee, etc. Mr. Sullivan was in his usual good humor and some of the sentences he pronounced convulsed the audience with laughter.

On Wednesday afternoon last Rev. Irwin united in marriage Josh Isaman and Miss May Salisbury, the ceremony occurring at the Presbyterian parsonage. In the evening a reception was tendered the newly married couple by Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan. The bride, who is the daughter of W. N. Salisbury, has resided in the city two or three years and is a very estimable and worthy young lady and will do a full part in making her home an ideal one. Mr. Isaman has charge of Buchanan's abstract office and is a pleasant and energetic young man. Mr. and Mrs. Isaman are now fitting up the Ormsby house on Third street, and will be at home to their many friends within a few days.

V. Lucas, M. D., Graduate of the Omaha Medical College. Office, "City Pharmacy."

Mrs. W. M. Baskin has the finest specimen of a lily which has thus far come under the reportorial eye this season.

F. L. Meredith, formerly assistant principal of the North Platte schools, has started a paper at Crawford, this state.

Wm. Smallwood received a fine assortment of Easter flowers the first of the week, from his daughter Blanche, at Portland, Ore.

W. H. Price has erected a windmill and tank on his premises in the south part of town and will do a little farming by irrigation.

H. C. Rennie, who is agent for the Field bicycle, sold two of them Monday, one to Ralph Ray and the other to J. H. Cunningham.

The manner in which entertainments have been patronized this week apparently gives the lie to the idea that money is scarce in North Platte.

The Ottman store room is being repaired preparatory to being occupied by C. M. Newton, who will probably remove his stock there to-day or to-morrow.

We learn that the health of Mrs. Jno. Ellison, who has been at Helper, Utah, for some time, has not improved and a removal to Salt Lake City is intended.

The entertainment in course of preparation by the Daughters of the King, and which was to have been given the early part of next week, has been indefinitely postponed.

Dr. Butt, the new dentist, arrived in town a few days ago, and has fitted up his office in McDonald's block. His mother accompanied him, and they will shortly take their residence in the Second ward.

R. C. Hardin, of Whittier, was in town yesterday. It is said Mr. Hardin will soon join a colony, organized on the Bellamy plan, which will locate in one of the fertile valleys of Colorado.

The assessors' returns for the city will show a depreciation of from five to seven per cent on real estate from the 1894 valuation. Last year the assessed valuation was five per cent below that of 1893.

There is talk on the streets to the effect that Mayor-elect Baker will appoint W. E. Park city marshal. Whether there is any truth in the talk will be developed when Mr. Baker assumes his duties as mayor.

W. O. Thompson, who cultivated 125 acres of land on the ditch, sold his last season's crop for $2530. This does not include the butter, eggs, and etc., which were sold during the year. Out of the above amount he paid about $400 for labor. This is additional evidence that farming by irrigation pays.

Manager Goodman, of the Cody ranch, is farming quite extensively this year. He has put in 160 acres of oats, will sow 100 acres to alfalfa and his cornfield will contain between 1600 and 1800 acres. As the land is all under irrigation the crop raised on the ranch this year will be worth a snug sum.

Dr. Butt, the new dentist, has arrived and will soon have his office in shape to receive callers.

Judge Sinclair's decision in the case of Paxton & Hershey against the Farmers' & Merchants' irrigation ditch company, which was rendered in the district court here on Monday, is being given wide publicity through the state press. The decision is an important one, and if sustained by the supreme court—as it likely will be—the result will be very beneficial to the cause of irrigation.

The ladies of the Catholic church held a social at the residence of J. J. Sullivan Wednesday evening, and a large attendance and a pleasant time is reported. An exceptionally fine programme of vocal and instrumental music was rendered during the evening. The Gordon cornet band was present and discoursed some fine music. The receipts were thirty dollars.

The officers of the Lincoln County Immigration Association sent in an order yesterday for 5,000 illustrated pamphlets descriptive of the irrigated lands of the county. This pamphlet, which will be engraved and printed by a St. Louis firm, will contain sixteen pages and gotten up in the highest style of the printer's art. The 5,000 will cost $275.

President Fort, of the State Irrigation Association, informs us that arrangements are being made to have on the state fair grounds this fall a complete and practical illustration of the several methods of irrigating lands. As irrigation is one of the most important subjects before the people of the west part of the state, every effort should be used on their part to interest the people of the eastern part.

WILL DECLARE A DIVIDEND.

Receiver Doolittle, of the North Platte National Bank authorizes THE TRIBUNE to make the statement that a twenty per cent dividend on all approved claims against the bank will be made within three weeks. The receiver received authority for such action yesterday morning, and as soon as he can prepare the necessary papers, send them to the comptroller for approval and receive them back again, the payment of the dividend will commence.

Not all claims against the bank have been presented for approval, and those who have been dilatory in this matter will not share in the dividend soon to be declared. The presentation of claims for approval is a matter claimants should not overlook.

Those having claims against the bank will no doubt be pleased to learn that this dividend is to be so early declared. It may also be taken as evidence that Receiver Doolittle is using every effort to wind up the affairs of the bank as early as possible.

WILL HE RETURN?

THE TRIBUNE had information the early part of the week of the departure of C. L. Brill, manager of the local business college, and that he also took all his personal effects with him, yet it was loth to believe that he had "skipped the town." Later developments, however, have proven pretty conclusively that Brill left with the intention of not returning, and that the business college can be considered a thing or the past. The condition Brill left matters in is not satisfactory to many, especially the dozen and a half pupils who expected to receive diplomas next week. So far as we can learn Brill left few unpaid bills in town.

Since the above was put in type the following letter has been received by a young man in attendance at the school:

EMERSON, Iowa, April 17, 1895.
V. E. Marsh, North Platte, Neb.
Dear Sir:—I found the folks very sick but by proper care I think will pull through all right. I am obliged to go east on important business as soon as I can leave and I think you had better close up school till I come back there, which will be about the first of June, when I organize a new class in shorthand. I hope you will be able to be with us when school opens again. I will send you diploma in a few days. You can close up school to-morrow (Friday) night. Wishing to thank you for your services, and will settle with you when I see you.
Very respectfully,
C. L. BRILL.

The Woman's Relief Corps entertainment at the opera house Tuesday evening was attended by an audience that filled both the floor and the gallery. The early part of the evening was devoted to speaking tableaux, vocal and instrumental music, an exhibition of fancy dancing by Delia Post, and a drill by eight little girls dressed in night gowns and caps. These two latter numbers were the best on the programme. At the conclusion of these exercises the floor was cleared and dancing was engaged in until shortly past midnight. During the evening refreshments were served. The net receipts of the entertainment were about one hundred dollars. As the Woman's Relief Corps is one of the noblest charitable organizations in the city, THE TRIBUNE is pleased to note the success of the entertainment, and congratulates the ladies in charge on the splendid result.

Dr. Butt does crown and bridge work, also metal and vulcanite plates.

Harry Langdon has a great scheme. Being a believer in the idea that those who will not work should not eat, he has a small tract of ground between the shade trees at the west of his residence set apart for cultivation by the festive tramp. At present the plot has been worked about one-half over by the industrious tramps—how anomalous this sounds—after which it is the intention to have it subsoiled. Some day, perhaps, some typographical error when set at this task, will decamp with the implement with which he is provided, and pawn the same for the price of a meal—and a drink.

Several days ago H. W. Fogel, of Hershey, had a horse turn up missing. Last week Sheriff Miller recovered the animal over near Wallace. Yesterday afternoon deputy Keliher and Mr. Fogel went over in that county to see a fellow who was thought to have stolen the horse, and who was loitering around Hershey at about the time it was taken.

The performers at the entertainment last evening were a neat looking set of fellows, and it is only proper to add that the most handsome ones had their tonsorial work performed at Doc Sizemore's shop.

Pearl Armbus received yesterday morning a fine new Scorching Overland wheel from the manufacturers at Peoria, Ill.

In the Spring the Young Man's Fancy turns—sometimes, to thoughts of love; at other periods of sane moments, his thoughts are as to what will constitute the most appropriate present for his best beloved. To him who is wandering in this labyrinth of doubt and uncertainty, Clinton, the Jeweler, by reason of his observation as well as occupation, is able to give many profitable pointers. Like all benefactors, he has a lively appreciation of the situation, and his counsel will be as sympathetically as well as disinterestedly given.
